Internships
The program coordinator and the student jointly design internships using certain guidelines such as an urban center location, challenging work, and appropriate supervision. Students will usually combine a professional internship with one day per week of service in an urban non-profit in order to fully experience the urban setting. Another consideration is to have a critical number of interns in each city in order to have worthwhile reflection gatherings. In other words, if there are not a sufficient number of students applying for internships in a given city, no students will be placed there. In filling out your application, be sure to have a second choice city.

Spring Sprint Course
All interns must participate in a Spring Semester Sprint Course on Thursdays, February 14 through April 24, 2008. The course meeting time will be 5:30 to 6:45PM. Registration for this course will be handled during the Spring term.

Location
Students are placed in Cleveland, Chicago and either Cincinnati or Columbus, depending on interest. There are several factors influencing where any student is placed. Appropriate housing, appropriate internship position available, and number of students in each city are all considerations. Effort will be made to place students in their first choice city though this is not always possible so flexibility in city choice will be a plus on your application.

Housing
Housing must be secured BY THE STUDENT. The program does not locate or provide housing. Ideally, students will live in the urban district in which they work or within a ten-mile radius. As experiencing urban living is a goal of the program, working in Cincinnati while living in Oxford will not be an option. There may be a limited number of small stipends toward housing that will be made available based on the student's interest in obtaining housing in the urban environment.

Length and Stipend for Internships
Internships are ten weeks of full-time work, beginning after school lets out in May and ending by July 27, 2007. The stipend is $3800, paid in three equal payments throughout the summer.

Program Commitments
Successful completion of Spring Sprint course
Ten weekly journal entries on specified topics
Two summer group meetings for urban exploration and reflection
A final reflection paper due at the beginning of Fall term
